

Bike the Cherries

Enjoy flowering Spring views while learning about the history of Washington, D.C's cherry blossom trees or other park sites on a bicycle tour of the National Mall.

WHEN:	Saturdays and Sundays, March 25 - April 9, 2006
WHERE:	Tours begin at the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Plaza located on the Tidal Basin.
TIME:	1:00 p.m.
DURATION:	The average trip will be two hours, however this may vary.

The National Cherry
Blossom Festival runs
March 25
- April 9

Bring your own bike, water, and helmet.

The NPS encourages visitors to use the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (METRO). The Smithsonian Station, at 12th street and Jefferson Drive SW, is the closest station to the festivities. Information and directions are available at the National Cherry Blossom Welcome Center, located on the southwest corner of the Washington Monument grounds (Independence Avenue and 17th Street, SW).

For more information, please visit our web site at www.nps.gov/nacc/cherry
or contact park ranger Jason Martz at 202.438.4391.

Please, leave the blossoms for others to enjoy.

